EU External Relations Law: The Cases in Context

Graham Butler and Ramses A. Wessel (Editors)

Oxford: Hart Publishing, 2021

The entire framework of EU external relations law has been built from the ground up by the jurisprudence of the Court of Justice of the European Union.

At the beginning of the field's emergence, the legal questions to be answered concerned the division of powers and competence between, firstly, the Member States and that of the Union; and secondly, the division of powers and competence between the different institutions of the Union.

More contemporarily, legal questions continue to be asked in need of adjudication involving various questions, including the autonomy of Union law; the relationship between the Union and other international organisations; as well as the relationship between Union law and international law; and the scope and breadth of international agreements; amongst others.

This book will analyse and contextualise the entire breadth of the jurisprudence of EU external relations law through a systematic, case-by-case account of the field, taking into account all relevant cases.

Thematically driven, featuring the established scholars and legal practitioners in the field of EU external relations law, the book will cover over 90 cases in which the Court has legally shaped the theory and practice of the field.
